General Guideline:

1. Monitoring : e.g. survey (please clarify: online/offline), field visit, document/desk review, coordination meeting for M&E related activities.
2. Research : e.g. CCA, scoping study/landscape analysis (an exploration activity to justify on the necessity of the project), assessment, baseline/endline study, insight study
3. Evaluation : e.g. mid-term evaluation, final evaluation
4. Data collection : e.g. qualitative or quantitative data

GLOSSARY

Activity	Actions taken or work performed through which inputs such as funds, technical assistance, and other types of resources are mobilized to produce specific outputs.
Assumptions	Hypotheses about factors or risks which could affect the progress or success of an intervention. Intervention results depend on whether or not the assumptions made, prove to be correct.
Baseline	Information gathered at the beginning of a project or programme from which variations found in the project or programme are measured.
Beneficiaries	The individuals, groups, or organizations, whether targeted or not, that benefit directly or indirectly, from the intervention.
Data	Specific quantitative and qualitative information or facts that are collected and analyzed.
Evaluation	An assessment, conducted as systematically and impartially as possible, of an activity, project, programme, strategy, policy, topic, theme, sector, operational area or institutional performance. It analyses the level of achievement of both expected and unexpected results by examining the results chain, processes, contextual factors and causality using appropriate criteria such as relevance, effectiveness, efficiency, impact and sustainability. An evaluation should provide credible, useful evidence-based information that enables the timely incorporation of its findings, recommendations and lessons into the decision-making processes of organizations and stakeholders.
Goal	The higher-order national objective to which a development intervention is intended to contribute.
Impact	Positive and negative long-term effects on identifiable population groups produced by a development intervention, directly or indirectly, intended or unintended. These effects can be economic, socio-cultural, institutional, environmental, technological or of other types and should have some relationship to the MDGs and national development goals.
Indicators	a limited number of measurements that are used for monitoring and reporting on the achievement of results.

Monitoring	Management's continuous examination of any progress achieved during the implementation of an undertaking in order to track its compliance with the plan and to take necessary decisions to improve performance.
Outcome	The intended or achieved short-term and medium-term effects of an intervention's outputs, responding to national priorities and local needs and UNDAF outcomes. Outcomes represent changes in development conditions that occur between the completion of outputs and the achievement of impact.
Output	The products and services that result from the completion of activities within a development intervention within the control of the organization.
Research	A systematic examination designed to develop or contribute to knowledge.
Review	The periodic or ad hoc, often rapid assessment of an undertaking's performance that does not apply the due process of evaluation. Review tends to emphasize operational issues.
Target	Specifies a particular value for an indicator to be accomplished by a specific date in the future.
